ON-CAMERA HOSTING

Thanks to the generosity of alum Ben Kalb ’69, the Departments of Theatre Arts & Athletics invite students to attend a two-day, one-credit workshop to bolster on-camera TV/film hosting skills.

What students can expect to learn:

• How to cultivate a strong on-camera personality and proper on-camera technique
• How to build a comfort level on camera and in front of an audience
• How to maximize your personality: energy, passion, sense of humor, conversational style, audience appeal, and likeability
• Tips for gaining confidence and credibility
• How to control nerves and handle distraction
• Body language: eye contact, posture, owning the space
• Proper technique to master the teleprompter
• Improve general presentation skills that will help in many facets of life!

When: Saturday, May 9, 8:30 am – 4:00 pm, lunch provided
Sunday, May 10, 8:30 am – 2:00 pm, lunch provided

The class will be taught by special guest lecturer Shannon O’Dowd. The one-credit course is an invitation-only class open to students who have a declared majors of Journalism, Theatre Arts or Cinema Studies and/or are student athletes. Space is limited to 15 participants.

Students who wish to register should contact Krysten Mayfair, kmayfair@uoregon.edu by April 27, 2015.
