

Photographers: Capture the essence of the game through compelling visuals, from action shots to behind-the-scenes moments. Paid or Unpaid TBD. They will provide equipment rental fees for your own equipment.

Benefits of the Internship Program:

Hands-on Experience: Students will work directly with professionals in their chosen field, gaining practical skills and industry insights.

Networking Opportunities: Build connections within the sports media industry and enhance future job prospects.

Portfolio Development: Create a robust portfolio showcasing their work on a professional sports platform.

Mentorship: Receive guidance and mentorship from experienced professionals in the field.

We would be delighted to discuss the details of this potential partnership further. I am available for a meeting at your earliest convenience to explore how we can tailor these opportunities to align with the goals of the University of Oregon Journalism program.
